Revised
The Rates of the Custome house reduced into a much better order for the redier finding of any thing therein contained; then at any time hertofore hath been, and now again corrected enlarged and amended.

¶ Wherunto is also added the true difference and contents of waights and measures, with other things neuer before Imprinted.

Imprinted at

London at the long shop adioyning vnto Saint Mildreds Church in the Pultrie by John Alde,

Thomas Tremlett

To the Reader.

Her hast thou (gentle Reader) the Rates of the Customhouse that is to say, the Subsidie or poundage for all maner of merchandise aswel outwards as inwards, in any of ^{our} Quenes maiesties Ports, Hauens or Creeks established by an act of Parliament made in the first yee of Queene Mary, and at this time standeth in strength.

And where as many things in the former Impressions stood confusedly & so out of order, that a man often times should haue much to doo to finde some things therein contained: so now maist ^{thou} finde any ching heer in wth small seeking, considering not only the first letter of euery name but also the second letter in the same name. As for example Abces is the first wherin you shall finde A. before B, and the next after Abces is Acaia wherin is A before C. and so forth after the order of the Alphabet shalt ^{thou} finde it thowow out. Farewel.

All other goods and wares which shall be caried out of this Realme by way of merchandise and bee not mentioned among the rates for the subsidies or poundage outwards (our plesure is) shall be rated to pay custome & subsidie or poundage outwards according vnto the values and prices of the same goods mentioned in this book among the rates for the subsidie or poundage inwards.

And if there shall happen to be brought in or carried forth in this our Realme any goods or wares liable to the payment of the said custome & subsidie or poundage, which either be omitted out of this book or be not now vsed to be brought in, or carried forth, our plesure is y in such case euery our Customer or Collector for the time being shall leuy the said customes and subsidie or poundage according

According to the valure and price of such goods to be affirmed vpon the othe of y Merchant in the p[re]sence of the Customer and Controuler for the time beeing vntil furder order shalbe taken there in by vs and our Councel.

A declaration exp[re]ssing the losse sustained by reason of the difference bee-tween the custome and subsidies of wull and Cloth, and also exp[re]ssing the rate p[re]sently assessed vpon Clothes.

The Rates for English men

Wull.

A sack of wull custome

And

And so the custome
of wul in cloth is lesse thē the custome and subsidie of so much wul not clothed, in euery sack in Short Clothes

xxxb. l. liii. s

The difference of which custome bee-tween the wul and Cloth, is reduced to an equalitie by rating vpon euery Short Cloth

x. s

Which difference between the custome of the wul and cloth considered, and the great losse sustained by vs in the same, by reason that clothing is now so much increased, it is thought conuenient by vs, with the aduice of our counsell, to-wardes the releef of the losse, to asseſse vpon the clothes carped out by the way of Merchandise some larger rate then hertofore hath been vsed,

And

And though it were reason to appoint such a Rate as might recompence the full of the losse sustained, yet vpon di-uers considerations at this time (vs & our councel mouing) we are pleased to assesse only the rate insuing.

That is to say.

Euery short cloth shipped and caried out of the Realme by way of merchandise by any English man shall yeld to vs by name of custome

vi. s. viii. d

And also after the rate in all other cla-thes. Which exceedeth the olde custome vpon euery short cloth

v. s. vi. d

And is neuerthelesse vnder the Rate which reduceth the Custome of Wull & Cloth to an equalitie in euery short Cloth.

A true discription of Troy vveight and Haberdepoiz weight,

First xi, Wheate cornes of the midst of the eare of white Wheat beeing saire, full and dry, doo make one peny weight.

Item lx. of those pence doo make an ounce weight. And xii. of those ounces make a pound of Troy weight, And a pound of Troy maketh thre pound of our siluer coine.

But the Goldsmiths and the bakers doo reckē xxxii. of y^e said wheat cornes to a peny weight, as it hath been in vse long time since.

Of Haderdepoiz vveight,

If Troy weight xiiii. ounces and a half & half quarter: doo make a pound called Haberdepoiz weight.

And by this weight men buy and sell the moste part of merchandize in this Realme, as Lead, Tinne, Iron, copper

per. Steele, Wax Wood, Silk, thred Flax hemp, Ropes, Tallobo & all mā ner of such other merchandize.

And by the difference of this weight, baying truely reduced into y^e weights in other countries a man may knowe how to make his reconing the better.
